In July 2014, the boss of NHS England, Simon Stevens, said that there would be a new programme for health and care services to come together.

This is called Integrated Personal Commissioning.

We changed the name in Hampshire to

The ‘My Life My Way’ project

Hampshire is 1 of 10 places in England doing this project.
Who is this for In Hampshire?

- People with a Learning Disability 14 years and older
- People with a Physical Disability 14 years and older
- People with Autism 14 years and older
I’m getting the help I need, so that disability doesn't get in the way.

I’m using my abilities.

I’m getting the life I want.

I’m in control of my plan for life.

I have my say about how the money I have for support is spent.
In the Future

People will get support that meets their needs

Less people will live in a hospital or residential institution
More people with disabilities will be able to have a person-centred plan that says what matters to them and their family.

Health, Social care and Education are all going to listen to the person and family and find out what is in their person centred plan then work with them to make a support plan.

Hampshire Advocacy Regional Group and Independent Lives are going to help do this Personal Budgets for more People with Disabilities

Health and social Care and education will work together to offer person budgets to more people with a disability.

This will give people more choice and control over how money is spent to help them.
What is a personal budget?

If you need help from social services, health or education, you can be given the money to get this help. This can be given to you in different ways.
Different types of Personal Budget

Direct Payments – when you get the money to spend on services yourself, or through someone close to you who spends it with you.

Individual Service Funds – when your service holds the money and spends it on the things you want.
Health, Social care and Education are going to work together better with the person and the family to make this a good time.

We want to make this a happy time for people and support people and their families more.

When someone is 18 years old or leaves college lots of things can change and this can be scary.
Working together with people with a disability and parent carers

We are going to work with and listen to parents and people with disabilities more and invite them to join groups and workshops

We will employ people with a disability and parent carers to help us

Peer Leaders
What’s is happening now?

Workshops and task groups

Information Events

We will be working with the first 5 young people and families

We will be working with a man who has just been discharged from a learning disability hospital
Any questions